For residency programs: Exhibit in the residency fair on Saturday, October 10. Encourage your residents and faculty to submit abstracts, and then set aside the time and funding for personnel from your program to attend! Exhibit space is limited and has sold out every year, with 45 residency program exhibitors in 2014. With an estimated 200 student attendees from the region, this is a prime opportunity for meaningful discussions with prospects. Each booth includes two free attendee registrations, so programs can even consider sharing a booth with an affiliated site. After the exhibit hall, continue the conversations with students throughout the conference weekend. Contact Ginnie Flynn at gflynn@iafp.com or 630-427-8004 for information.

Sponsorship opportunities: Corporations and employers enjoy unique options to interact with the best and brightest at every stage of their careers. Meet the most dedicated and innovative family medicine professionals in the region who have built the Family Medicine Midwest brand over the past three years and continue to make it their priority event for the fall. Contact Desma Rozovics at drozovics@iafp.com for information.

For Attendees

Submit an Abstract: Beginning in late March, Family Medicine Midwest will accept abstracts for workshops, lectures, and panel presentations. Showcase your research and poster presentations. Practicing physicians, residents and students are encouraged to submit and are accepted as presenters. Application instructions and the online submission process will be posted at www.iafp.com/fmm.

From the preconference collaborative workshops to the closing education, physicians at every stage of their careers will benefit from Family Medicine Midwest

-Practicing physicians: Showcase your practice setting and share your experiences with the next generation

-Faculty physicians: Share and learn best practices and showcase your program

Quotable quotes from 2014 conference attendees:

FMMC provides the lightning bolt that catalyzes ideas and relationships!

This was truly invigorating! I am so pumped to continue my medical education, get onto wards, and pursue family medicine!

...a great amalgamation of educational sessions and presentations, residency and fellowship fairs. It was a great experience!
(Prashant Morolla, MD, PGY-3, Minot, ND)

Energizing and uplifting, there's a lot of good stuff happening!

I gained knowledge about the field of family medicine and was greatly inspired by the amazing physician teachers and leaders in this community!
